JRLW President's Message

When spring comes we think of new beginnings, beautiful weather, cherry blossoms and, of course, Passover.

We are looking forward to our JRLW Second Seder which will take place on April 7. The Second Seders have become a popular event here in Leisure World. I look forward to seeing you and your family there. Thanks to Marilyn Fox and her committee for making the Seder a success. Thanks, also, to Fred Firnbacher for leading the Seder as he has done in years past.

This year we have several firsts. We held our first Purim Service in March. This year we will publish our own Yiskor booklet which will be used at our four Yiskor Services to be held during the year.

Each month I have written about someone who stands out in JRLW. This month I want to spotlight Rabbi Gary Fink. He helps us in so many ways. Rabbi Fink delivers an outstanding Friday Evening Service each month. He has been very accommodating by stepping in to lead other religious services when asked. He is always available to anyone who needs his professional guidance.

His classes are always informative and popular with our members. He is very knowledgeable. Those of us who have come to know him, love and respect him. We hope he will be with us for many years to come.

I wish each of you a happy and special Passover.

Shalom,
Dolly Solomon

Religious Committee

Approximately 50 members of JRLW turned out for the services held on March 8 in Clubhouse II to celebrate Purim. We held a regular weekday morning service and, because March 8 was a Thursday, we also read from the Torah and followed that with the reading of the Megillah. All participants had a good time and made the appropriate noises with groggers or otherwise at the appropriate times. Sheila Chodorov and Janet Lazar worked hard to make this, our first Purim service, a success. Rabbi Fink did an outstanding job. He prepared a booklet with excerpts of the Megillah with an English translation. All in all it was a success and we hope to continue having Purim Services in the future.

In April, we will celebrate Passover and have prepared our schedule of services accordingly. The April Friday night service has been moved from April 6 to April 13 in order not to conflict with the First Seder. The JRLW Second Seder will be held on April 7, and Marilyn Fox and Fred Firnbacher are hard at work to make the Second Seder enjoyable for all. On April 14, we will have our regular Saturday morning service in Clubhouse II. Yiskor will be recited during the Service at approximately 10:30 am.

Rosh Hashanah falls on September 16 this year and the Religious Committee is starting to get ready for the High Holidays:

We have acquired the services of Rabbi Kenneth L Cohen to conduct the Reform Service and, with his assistance, we are looking for a cantor to accompany him.

On the Conservative side we are fortunate, once again, to have Rabbi Gary Fink and Cantor Mike Kravitz conduct our services.

This year for the High Holidays we will print a special Yiskor Booklet. This booklet will contain all the necessary services for Yiskor, and will also allow members of JRLW to memorialize their dear departed. This booklet will also be used whenever we recite Yiskor: Shavuot, Shimini Atzeret and Passover. More information on this topic will be forthcoming soon.

May their memory be a blessing.

JRLW BREAKFAST FORUM

The April JRLW Breakfast Forum will be held on Sunday, April 15, 2012 at 10:00 am in the Crystal Ballroom in Clubhouse 1. The Forum is being sponsored by Mt. Scopus Hadassah. The speaker will be Rabbi Stuart Weinblatt, B'nai Tzedek Congregation in Potomac, Maryland. His topic will be "Confronting the Challenges Facing Israel Today."

Make your reservation to attend by mailing your check made payable to JRLW, $5.00 member ($8.00 non-member) to Bella Rapaport, 3005 S. Leisure World Blvd., #301, Silver Spring, Maryland 20906

GOOD AND WELFARE

Mazel Tov to Annette Cooper on the Bar Mitzvah of her grandson Jared Cooper. This happy event will take place on April 21, at Keshet Israel Synagogue in Georgetown. Keshet Israel is one of the oldest synagogues in Washington, D.C.

Joy and Art Podolsky will be celebrating the Bat Mitzvah of their granddaughter, Adira Colton, on March 31.

Jerry and Ruth Jacobs are celebrating the birth of their second great grandson born February 28.

We hope he brings them nothing but nachus! On a not-so-good note, Jerry fell and fractured his hip, had successful surgery and is now recuperating and is getting rehab therapy.

We wish a speedy recovery to Elaine Daniels who underwent hip surgery.

Muriel Seid is recovering from injuries incurred following a fall. Muriel, we hope you will be feeling better soon.

Get well wishes to Etta Doris who recently underwent hip surgery.

We are happy to hear that Martha Ross is home following knee replacement.

Goldie Bosin is in the Hebrew Home, recuperating from an unfortunate incident. She is making good progress. We hope she will be home soon.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to Lillis Caulton who fell and is currently a patient in the Hebrew Home.

Mazel Tov to Marilyn and Leonard Teitelbaum on the engagement of their granddaughter Lisa to Aviad Eden. The wedding will take place in Israel where Lisa and Aviad met on a kibbutz.

Miriam Gilbert is currently at Brooke Grove undergoing rehab. We wish her well.

Coming of Age in Maryland: Mid-Year Report

By Beth Shapiro, LCSW JSSA
Senior Services
Coming of Age in Maryland
301-816-2665 • bshapiro@jssa.org

Coming of Age in Maryland (CoA) has been successfully providing an array of services for older adults in Montgomery County for several years.

CoA's goal is to help seniors remain socially engaged and to live healthier, safer, independent lives in their homes and communities. CoA helps reduce social isolation through a variety of social programs, social work, home health and transportation services. The program helps empower older adults to live fuller lives.

Did you know?

- CoA engages nearly 1,250 people on our mailing list by responding to their changing needs.
- CoA does much to empower older adults – engaging and recognizing them as valued members of the community - and enabling them to safely age-in-place.

The importance and value of the Coming of Age is clear. I am proud to share the following data from our recent report to State of Maryland for the period of July - December 2011.

- 822 socialization services were provided to 424 people -- a 65% increase of service from last year
- A licensed social worker interacted with more than 300 older adults
- The number of home health services double from 101 to 206 from last year
- 176 individual rides on JCA provided buses brought participants to a cruise along the Potomac, Toby's Dinner Theater, the Hirschhorn Museum, and shows at the Rockville Musical Theater and the Kennedy Center.

CoA in Maryland is reaching a growing number of older adults who live in Gaithersburg, Bethesda, Rockville and Silver Spring. I encourage you to tell your friends and neighbors about CoA and invite them to call me or join our growing mailing list!

RECIPE CORNER

PASSOVER NUT COOKIES

6 eggs
 1 cup sugar
 Grated rind of 1 lemon
 3 tbsp. oil
 2/3 cup ground nuts
 1 cup matzo cake meal
 2 tbsp. potato starch
 Pinch salt

Beat eggs and sugar together until light yellow. Add the rest of the ingredients. Mix well and let the mixture stand for about 10 minutes. Now drop by teaspoon onto oiled or non-stick cookie sheet, or line the cookie sheet with parchment paper sprayed with Passover vegetable spray. Allow room for spreading. Sprinkle with sugar and bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for about 15 to 20 minutes. Cool for 5 minutes before transferring to cooling rack. Store in tightly covered container (hide away from children).

PHYLLYS HUTT'S CORNER

THE EVIDENCE IS NOT ALWAYS CIRCUMSTANTIAL

April is upon us, the month for Passover, with all of its rich traditions, and the month wherein a special day is set aside, just for fools! Springtime was always an excuse to behave in a giddy way, to feel nonsensical sometimes, and to go with it.

Recently, in one of my more whimsical moods, I was recalling some situations in my life which could have easily been interpreted to be something other than it was!

For instance, there was the time I was rehearsing the role of Ethel, the mother in Barefoot in the Park, and we were rehearsing in Calverton Elementary School. The first scene was in a bare apartment and I was sitting on a suitcase, as the furniture was scheduled for arrival the next day. I supplied my own suitcase, but the director said, "Better not leave it here overnight. Someone might walk off with it." We rehearsed three nights per week, and I was given a ride to the school with the fellow who played the Robert Redford role, only he was a little better looking. He would pull up to my front door in his red Corvette, and I would leave each night with him, carrying my suitcase. The next night, the same thing. What did the neighbors think? I never could make up my mind, and I suppose they thought I just wasn't sure if I wanted to leave my husband or not, so I let them think what they wanted to.

Then there was the time I worked at the White House. When the FBI came to Chapel View Drive to check on my reputation (which was done on a regular basis throughout the year) the neighbors would let me know in their own inimitable way that some government guys were checking me out. The question was always, "What in the world did you do????."

More food for the local grist mill was when our friend Morty, a photographer, stopped by my house in Langley Park. He had been doing progress photos on the nearby shopping center which was under construction, and had ripped his pants on a nail while climbing over some planks. He had a later appointment in a private residence, to take some photos of children at a birthday party and he was very upset, because he didn't have time to go home and change clothes. Could I please sew up his trousers? I told him that I was not good at sewing, that I thought safety pins were the greatest invention known to man, but that I would try to help.

I said for him to go upstairs where he would find Paul's bathrobe hanging on the back of the bathroom door, and to bring the torn trousers downstairs with him. He put on the robe and descended the stairs. While I looked for my poor excuse for a sewing box, in walks my sister Ruthie, with a deer-in-the-headlights look on her face!

Ahh, the things we live through in one lifetime. These stories prove the theory that you really can't always believe what you see, and that timing is everything!

THE PASSOVER SEDER

My first memory of a Seder was at my Grandmother's table. I remember lots of cousins being there also. My Uncle would lead the Seder, reading from a large book. I don't know if it was a Hagaddah. He started from the beginning and read in a dramatic voice. Sometimes he would stop to show us a picture, or to ask questions of us children to make certain we understood the story. From time to time, the proceedings had to be halted as relatives arrived at the house from such far away places as "Philly" or "northwest." Then there were greetings and hugs all around. And kisses from Aunts. Those Seders lasted for hours; some of us got fidgety and had to be excused from the table.

Fast forward to the Seders in my own home. Preparing for the Seder was the one time in the year where my four boys were happy to help. (Continued on the next page)

Each year as the special Seder dishes were brought up from the basement and unpacked, there were eight hands reaching into the cartons to unwrap amid happy voices: "Remember this one?" There were no complaints about cleaning their rooms before company came—well, maybe one or two objections. The boys chopped liver, and even helped with the baking. The Hagaddahs we used were not the Maxwell House ones that I remembered as a child, but the Hagaddah put out by Rabbi Z. Harry Gutstein who was our Rabbi at the time.

Our Seders grew as the family grew and as friends were included. These Seders were serious but definitely fun occasions. Everyone around the table took turns reading. There always seemed to be a scuffle about where the Afikomen had been hidden. The Four Questions were read in English and Hebrew by the youngest one at the table—with help from the older children. The singing of Dyanu was always loud and boisterous. There were years when we had as many as 38 people at the table. There were always enough helping hands following the meal to make the work light. I remember those Seders with a lump in my throat.

Now, just as everything else in life, the torch has been passed to the younger generation. L'dor v'dor. I go, as a guest, to my son's Seder. All that is required of me is the chopped liver and my nut sponge cake. The Seders are joyful. They make their own Hagaddahs.

They've added playful, but meaningful games to the Seder. And now there is the Cup for Miriam. The dogs have to be kept away from the door when it is opened for Elijah. And the singing! Oh my, the singing! After a delicious meal and Birchat Hamazon, it is time to go home and to relive memories of the Seders as they have been celebrated through the years.

It is my hope that the Passover Seder, with all the little changes, will continue to be enjoyed by all the future generations of my family.

NA'AMAT NEWS

Because of the closeness of the Passover holiday, NA'AMAT will not have an open meeting on the usual first Wednesday of the month. However, our annual fundraiser, Spiritual Adoption Luncheon, will be held on Tuesday, April 17, 2012, 11:30 a.m. in the Ballroom, Clubhouse I. Our guest is Lisa Levine, renowned Cantor from Temple Shalom. Cantor Levine will feature a stirring and versatile music program spanning geography and generations. The menu is a served cold plate. Cover charge is $28.00 per person. For additional information, please call Helen Fried, 301-438-3325. This is an important event for Na'Amat. Please plan to attend.

This month our board meeting will be held on the fourth Tuesday of the month, April 24, 10 am, in Clubhouse I.

Our donor luncheon will be held on May 24, at the Manor Country Club. Now is the time to be sure that you have earned your donor credit of $50.00.

Na'Amat is planning a three night trip to Rocking Horse Ranch in Highland, New York. The dates are June 18-21, 2012. We will be visiting Hyde Park, the home of FDR, West Point Military Academy and we will enjoy a trip down the Hudson River. There will also be free time to enjoy the many activities at the Ranch. For information, call Trudy Stone, 301-438-0016.

Na'Amat Israel operates multipurpose day care centers throughout the country and offers social work and psychological counseling as well as education for troubled children and their parents. Joining Na'Amat USA will enable you to support the programs and projects of our sister organization. Think Israel, Think Na'Amat.

JRLW AND COMING OF AGE PROGRAM PRESENT

MARK KLEMPNER AND “THE HEART HAS REASONS”

Fred Shapiro, JRLW Community Liaison

Residents of Leisure World are invited to hear noted author Mark Klempner discuss his research and the resulting book about the righteous Gentiles in Holland who risked their lives to save Jews in the community. “The Heart Has Reasons” is a remarkable book that provides both a fresh look at the “righteous gentiles,” and a meditation on what these Holocaust heroes might have to teach us more than half a century after they defied Hitler. The program will take place Friday, April 20, at 1:00 pm in Clubhouse I. Tickets will be available in E&R commencing March 21 for a donation of $6.00 per person, checks to be made out to JRLW.

Mark Klempner sought out some of the last surviving Dutch rescuers of Jewish children to better understand how and why they made their courageous choices. Inspired by their willingness to risk everything to help others during the Nazi occupation of Holland, he became deeply interested in what the rescuers have done with their lives since and where their moral compasses point today.

What emerges is both a window to the past and a vision for the future. If the rescuers could remain committed to making a difference while under the boot of the Nazi regime, we surely have something to learn from them about taking a stand against injustices, about maintaining an open heart and about not giving in or giving up.

Mark Klempner is a folklorist, historian and social commentator. Coming on the heels of Yom Hashoah, this presentation is both timely and critical in understanding the contributions of the Dutch Gentiles whose courage and understanding helped save many lives.

YOM HASHOAH

APRIL 19, 1:00 PM

JRLW will join with the Interfaith Committee of Leisure World for the annual Yom Hashoah memorial service which will be held on Thursday, April 19, at 1:00 pm, in the auditorium of Clubhouse II. The service is co-sponsored by JRLW, B'nai B'rith, Hadassah, Na'Amat and the Jewish War Veterans here in Leisure World. There is no admission charge.

The program will include residents of Leisure World who are survivors and liberators of the camps.

Our guest speaker this year will be Agron Alibali, LL.M., originally from Albania, and highly recommended by the staff of the US Holocaust Museum. Agron Alibali is a Visiting Fellow at the Center for Peace, Democracy and Development focusing on Southeastern Europe. His research has included issues of legal and electoral reform, human and minority rights, and development and reform of banking and financial institutions in Southeastern Europe. Of importance in terms of the Holocaust has been Mr. Alibali's research on issues relative to the legal aspects of the Jewish presence in Albania.

Join us as we continue to remember the events that decimated the Jewish population of Europe to assure that this drastic period of our history is never forgotten. Each year, as time moves on, there is a greater incentive to recall the cruelty of the Nazis and to assure that this will never happen again by educating our children and grandchildren about the camps, the crematoriums and the millions who fell in the hands of the Nazis. Bring family and friends to memorialize the 6 million.
