JRLW President's Message

This is my last message as President of Jewish Residents of Leisure World. I have enjoyed the last two years serving as President. I felt comfortable assuming the presidency as I had been on the JRLW Board for seventeen years. During my tenure we have seen positive changes in our organization as well as continuing JRLW projects already in place.

We have co-sponsored the To Life Expos with the JCCGW. We had our first Purim Services. Our Second Passover Seders were well attended. We had interesting speakers and programs at our Breakfast Forums. Our educational programs were outstanding. The entertainment and informational programs we sponsored together with Coming of Age were very successful. We continued to offer religious services, including Yom HaShoah, Krystalnacht, Malava Malkah and celebrations of Israeli Independence Day, as well as our Friday evening, Saturday morning and High Holiday services. We are now planning the first Yikzor Booklet to be published by and for JRLW members. These booklets will be used at our Yikzor Services held four times a year starting with Yom Kippur.

None of this could have been possible without the help of our Board and the chairmen of the various committees. I want to thank all of the people who made the last two years so successful.

I wish the incoming officers and board members a very productive year.

Shalom,

Dolly Solomon

Membership

Membership is the heart of every organization. During the past three years I've had the privilege of being Membership Chair. I've met wonderful people and have enjoyed the detailed updating of the membership list. As of mid-May there will be a new Membership Chairman.

The membership year is from June 1 thru May 31. There is a letter and an application in this May JRLW Newsletter. As I've said in the past, everyone who is a member of an organization is on the membership committee. Thanks to all of you for making my tenure in JRLW so pleasant.

PHYLLYS HUTT'S CORNER:

IT MIGHT AS WELL BE BLING

Two birthdays ago my children gifted me with a Nook. I had barely learned how to turn it on when, on the next birthday, they came up with an iPad. Not just an iPad, but an iPad2. This meant it would be twice as complicated to learn. I am a child of the depression and, one can get quite depressed trying to cope.

These days we have blogs and bling, G3s and G4s, Wikipedia, Google and Yahoo, hybrids, lowbrids, medium brids and all sorts of strange-sounding words being introduced and made into a sort of universal "in crowd speak". I am still at the point where I just found out that a cursor is not only a person who swears a lot. It is not uncommon to see a person speaking a foreign language on TV and one can detect words like megabyte, router, WiFi. etc. Whoa! I think I understand Japanese! It is truly the modern Tower of Babble. I finally find the app I am searching for and suddenly it disappears. Back to Square 1.

Another product of our current society is the red carpet. The latest red carpet trend is, "WHO are you wearing?" Huh? Immediately springing to mind is a picture of a lovely and glamorous woman with someone attached at the hip or draped over one shoulder. "WHO is it? My favorite designer, Jean-Claude Philippe Francois de la Vienne, of course!" (Joe Levy from the Bronx.)

These celebrities are interviewed from all around the world, so do the designers take turns being worn by Tiffany in Paris and Brittany in London and Lindsay in Hollywood? Electronics, friend! Anything is possible.

Recall the old spy movies, with the sentries and the passwords? I feel like I am living on one of Hollywood's B films, but I can never remember the password. Every single program requires one, and each one having a different amount of letters required, it necessitates writing down all the various passwords. Lose that paper and you are in big trouble! Want to go on You Tube? What's the secret code? Forgot it? Try the one you use for the Comcast ID.....uh-oh, they don't want a password. They require a username.

The redeeming feature to all of the above is that, when working properly, these things are wondrous and fabulous and maybe there is hope for me yet. I remember the day when I thought the microwave was a challenge, but now I wouldn't want to do without it. I know I will eventually become better acquainted with my iPad2. Or.....I just may need to use it as a cutting board.

RECIPE CORNERBLINTZES FOR SHAVUOTBatter

2 eggs
 Pinch salt
 1 tsp sugar
 1 cup water
 1 cup flour
 ¼ tsp baking powder

Filling

¾ lb ricotta cheese
 1 egg
 1 tbsp sugar
 Pinch cinnamon
 Pinch salt
 1 tsp grated lemon rind
 1 tsp cream of wheat
 1 tbsp margarine

Mix filling ingredients and set aside.

Beat batter ingredients until smooth. Drop batter (about 2 teaspoons at a time) onto small frying pan that has been greased and heated. Tip pan so that batter spreads evenly over entire pan. Bake on one side only until top is dry and starts to blister. Turn out on paper towels.

When all the pancakes have been made, place 1 tablespoon of filling on each. Fold over to form rectangle. Place seam side down in a well-greased baking sheet. Brush with melted margarine and bake in hot oven until golden brown. If preferred, they may be fried instead of baked. Serve warm with sour cream and/or applesauce.

ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting of the Jewish Residents of Leisure World will be held on Thursday, May 17, at 7:30 pm.

It is very important that all members attend this meeting. Elections for officers for the coming year will be held.

A final budget for the year will be presented. This organization can only be as good as its members want it to be. Please plan to attend this, our only scheduled general meeting of the year. Let's have a really big turnout!

TO LIFE EXPO 2012 RETURNS TO LEISURE WORLD

Fred Shapiro

JRLW and the Coming of Age Program of the JCCGW sponsor the To Life Expo May 17, from 10:30 am until 3:00 pm in Clubhouse I. Consisting of exhibitors, workshops, medical screenings, lunch and entertainment, this health and wellness exposition attracted over 1200 people last year and promises even more attractions this year.

The main venue will be the Crystal Ballroom with well over 50 exhibitors representing government and community service organizations, senior residences, as well as organizations that provide entertainment and educational opportunities for seniors. To accommodate more exhibitors and a calmer atmosphere, the entertainment and demonstrations have been relocated to another room. There will be give-a-ways, information, and a chance to ask questions at the exhibitor tables.

The Maryland Room will feature entertainment during the day and lunchtime, with a fixed price lunch at $9.00 catered by our own Leisure World caterer Ed Robinson. The lunch will consist of a selection of a sandwich (turkey, tuna or egg salad), water and a dessert cookie, brownie, or fruit cup.

Workshops will take place in the Potomac Room. There will be four workshops. Registration is preferred prior to May 17 to assure space for everyone wishing to attend. The workshops currently scheduled include Art Appreciation with Joan Hart (Monet's Wife and Gardens) and Healthy Heart-Preventive Care with Linda Krause.

Medical screenings will take place in the Chesapeake Room. Medical staff from our own Medical Center, Montgomery Hospital, Holy Cross Hospital and Shady Grove Hospital will perform screenings for pulmonary, glaucoma & visual acuity, oral cancer, carotid arteries, etc.

As in the past year, there will be a raffle with prizes donated by our exhibitors and local businesses. Tickets will be available for $2.00 for one and three for $5.00 at the entrance. Prize selections will be announced during the day.

The day will end with a grand finale concert in the Maryland Room. Free tickets will be available at the CoA table in the lobby.

The exposition is funded by the Aging in Place budget allocations of Governor Martin O'Malley and County Executive Ike Leggett.

Come early and enjoy the day. Bring your friends and relatives. Good time to show them what life is like in Leisure World.

For information about the Expo and to register for workshops, contact Frieda Enoch at the JCCGW, 301-348-3809, or the Coming of Age at 301-348-3832.

Bernice Cohen's grandson, Lee Friedman is graduating from Eleanor Roosevelt High School with high honors. Lee is a top-rated swimmer. He will be attending college in the fall.

Kudos to the outgoing JRLW officers for the great jobs they have done while in office. There is so much work that goes on behind the scene that most people are unaware of. That's what makes everything seem to flow so smoothly.

Julie Schecker's grandson Justin is graduating from Northwestern University. His field is sports broadcasting.

If anyone has good news to share, please let Bernice Cohen know. Bernice can be reached at 301-598-0192 or bernific@juno.com.

HAZAMIR YOUTH CONCERT

On Tuesday evening, May 22, there will be a free concert and desert reception for the entire community at Ohr Kodesh Congregation.

Hazamir is an international high school chorus with 18 chapters in the United States and one chapter in Israel. Each chapter has its own director and they perform their own repertoire in concert. In addition, they all rehearse the same music and come together for a concert at NY Carnegie Hall, which is always sold out. These youngsters spend a great amount of time and effort in order to perform Jewish music. They do a terrific job.

Plan to attend and enjoy this free concert.

NA'AMAT RBZ

Ruth Reid

In the month of May, Na'Amat will be involved with other aspects of the Leisure World Jewish community. On Friday, May 4, Na'Amat will sponsor the Oneg following the Shabbat Services at the Interfaith Chapel.

On Sunday, May 20, we will sponsor the JRLW Breakfast Forum which will be held in the Clubhouse I Ballroom. Our speaker will be Liliane Willens. Ms Willens will talk about her book, "Stateless in Shanghai." She will speak about her experience with three cultures, a Russian Jewish heritage, a privileged Shanghai education and then her and her family's entrapment when the Chinese Communists came to power in 1949. Hers is an interesting story and she is a wonderful speaker.

Na'Amat's Donor/Installation Luncheon will take place on Thursday, May 24, at the Manor Country Club. If you attended last year's event, you will remember that the lunch was delicious and the entertainment delightful. This year it will be the same. You know the expression, "If it ain't broke, don't fix it!" Well, we agree.

Here is another date to put on your calendar: Wednesday June 13. We will have a breakfast at 10:30 am in Clubhouse I Ballroom. This will be our "End of the Year: event featuring Cantor Josh Perlman, Jules Levine and Company (music) and the Woman of the Year award. The cost will be $10.00 per person. Look for a flier in the near future.

If you are a member of Na'Amat RBZ, you know all about all the good things we do. Our goal is always to raise funds to send to Israel to help make the lives of the children and women a little better and a little happier; to provide the best day care centers for the young children and scholarships for youths and women.

The next Na'Amat Board meeting will be held Tuesday, May 15.

Please note: there will not be an open meeting in May, June, July or August. Our next open meeting is on Wednesday, September 5, 2012.

WRITE IT DOWN!

Bernice Cohen

A few weeks ago, my granddaughter Molly Friedman came to 'interview' me for a school paper. She is a junior at American University and was writing a paper on her family's roots and ethnicity.

Molly and I talked for about four hours. She needed information about both sides of my family as well as those of her grandfather. I was able to give her a fair amount of information. Years ago I taped my father as he spoke about his childhood in Russia, how his family came to America and little bits of information such as his grandfather playing the clarinet for the Tzar, etc. For days after Molly left, I kept remembering things I should have mentioned, but didn't. Now I have started a notebook, jotting down these tidbits as I think of them.

I am writing this to suggest that we all do the same. If we write down as we remember things about our family's roots, we will be remembering for our children and our grandchildren. These memories belong to them. How else will they learn about the shtetels in the 'old country' or about experiences our grandparents—their great-grandparents – went through. So while we remember, grab a pen and start writing down memories. One day, our grandchildren will appreciate it.

VOLUNTEER FOR JRLW COMMITTEES

Fred Shapiro

As the Nominating Committee completes its job of selecting officers and elected Board members, the membership of JRLW must recognize the need for volunteers to come forward and join the various committees that function within JRLW. Single person committees do not represent the broad interests of the members of JRLW and Leisure World as a whole. Your participation can help to produce more interesting and varied programs that appeal to the new as well as older members of the organization. When more are involved the workload becomes less for each. Remember that ancient Jewish tradition, "those who give get." Be a giver and enjoy the benefits thereof. Join a committee today.

Coming of Age in Maryland: Consider the Conversation

by Beth Shapiro, LCSW, JSSA Senior Services

301-816-2665 • bshapiro@jssa.org
and Joy Sexton, Director, JSSA Hospice
301-816-2651 • jsexton@jssa.org

You are cordially invited to attend a free showing of the award winning documentary Consider the Conversation. This film was created and personally funded by two men who, motivated by personal experiences with loss, decided to join forces in 2009 to begin a journey resulting in a film that has the power to change perspectives about end of life. This one hour film will be screened at the JCC in Rockville on Thursday evening May 10, at 7:00 p.m. and will be followed by a question and answer discussion between audience and a panel of professionals.

The film candidly discusses the 21st century American struggle with communication and preparation for the end of life. It is a thoughtful and gentle film, filled with intimate accounts of the emotional, spiritual, physical and social burdens associated with something we will all face at some point in our lives. It examines multiple perspectives on end-of-life care including information and experiences from interviews with patients, doctors, family members, clergy, social workers and well known national experts.

Consider the Conversation does NOT seek to provide answers to the questions we must all face, rather it moves one to contemplate the questions most of us will confront at our own end of life or that of a loved one. The film strives to change the predominantly held American view that dying represents a medical failure, to one that sees end of life as a normal process which is rich in potential and opportunity for human development and connection. The film strives to facilitate dialogue between patients and caregivers and to provide motivation for the health care community to “grow-up” and assume a leadership position in initiating these discussions.

If you haven't seen the film, you will not be disappointed. If you have, come again and bring a family member or friend. If you have any specific questions about the film or about end of life care please feel free to be in touch with Beth or Joy, our contact information is at the top of this article.

“This is a remarkable, thought-provoking film that considers many of the issues that we will all one day face. It opens the floodgates of thought and conversation on this most difficult and often taboo subject. It helps to illustrate many areas of improvement in our health care system. I would encourage everyone to watch this important film including physicians, healthcare workers, patients and families. This film will help us to be better physicians, better nurses, better patients and better people.”

3 FACES OF JUDAISM DISCUSS AGING AND STAYING YOUNG

Fred Shapiro, Community Liaison

JRLW sponsors a three session class dedicated to a discussion of aging and how one maintains an active, youthful life as one ages. Rabbis of the Reform, Orthodox and Conservative movements will be at LW's Clubhouse 1 Wednesday mornings from 11:00 am until noon starting July 11 and ending July 25. Tuition for the three classes is $10.00. Register at E&R.

Rabbi Emeritus Jonathon Eichhorn, a member of Temple Emmanuel, is a Reform Rabbi. He will be the speaker July 11th. Rabbi Shmuel Leigh is Orthodox and will be in LW July 18. A Conservative Rabbi Jonah Layman of Shaare Tefila will conclude the program July 25.

Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn was ordained as a rabbi from Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati in 1962. Upon ordination he entered the US Army Chaplaincy, serving posts in Germany. He then assumed the position of rabbi at Temple Emanuel in Kingston, New York until his retirement in 2001. Since moving to Maryland, he has been a Jewish Chaplain at the Brooke Grove Retirement Community and a speaker for the Himmelfarb Mobile University.

Rabbi Shmuel Leigh studied in the Mir Yeshiva in Jerusalem as well as Beth Medrash Gevoaha, "The Lakewood Yeshivah" where he received his Smicha. He has been studying Talmudic Law full time for the past 14 years. Rabbi Leigh has conducted classes for the JCCGW senior programs, Aspenwood and Homecrest, as well as University Towers and other locations in the area.

Rabbi Jonah Layman has served Shaare Tefila Congregation as its rabbi since 1994. He was ordained by the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York in 1989 and received a Masters degree in Jewish education at the same time. He is a past president of the Washington Board of Rabbis and a past president of the Washington-Baltimore region of the Rabbinical Assembly. He is well known for his services here in Leisure World.

The theme of the classes is to learn from Jewish tradition how to be engaged and keep your mind and body active.
